

Denise Milne, a DJCAD Interaction Design tutor organised a user testing session where I was able to showcase and present my concept to my peers. All of whom didn't have any prior awareness of my project. The session allowed me to practise talking about my project and I received authentic user feedback of how the design communicated my ideas.

